Because FBA doesn't support good games to TAS.

The best Beat-em-Up games are the Arcade ones. Just to name a few:

Alien Vs Predator
Captain Commando
Both D&D
Final Fight
Knights of The Round
The Punisher

And theres still Metal Slug series, SF2, Ring of Destruction (its like WWF)

The Punisher and Alien versus Predator are truly awesome...

That is the problem of an Arcade Contest.
Few good games to TAS, pratically only Beat'em Ups.
If the TASer doesn't like Beat'em Up games, he don't have anything to TAS.

There is an arcade version of Super Mario Bros 1 called V.S Mario bros. It has slightly different layouts and warp zones.B)

Few good games to TAS, practically only Beat'em Ups.

But FBA doesn't support this game.

Non Beat-Em-Up games

19xx War Against Destiny

Aero Fighters 2

Aero Fighters 3

Breakers Revenge

Darkstalkers

ESP Ra.De

KOFs

Ghouls N Ghosts

Both Mega-Man

Mars MAtrix

Mercs

All Metal Slugs

Samurai Shodown

Shock Troopers

SFAs

SF2 (ssf2t and sf2hf)

Strikers 1945 Plus

Those are the games i know, all TASable.

Str8 has a point arcade games are being added to the playable list by the day, the TASer will be able to find something he/she likes to play

I always loved this game. But I see your point that it would be boring to watch.

Theres still alot of games i dont know (which is like 70% of the list). Puzzle games for Arcade are great too.

Since most people wont TAS Arcade games that far (the emulator is hard to handle) the next Contest should be Freestyle, for ALL consoles i mean, including Arcade.

Thats probably the most effective way to get people into it, if it were freestyle
